Russet for the finance director

The money standing still in your systems: found, proven row by row, followed until it is collected.

What Russet finds

- The overdue invoices and who owes them: by age (1–30, 31–60, 61–90, over 90 days) and by customer, the largest first.
- Why they are stuck: never chased, no customer e-mail, more than 60 days overdue, already paid for the bank but still open.
- What to do today: the reminders ready, one per invoice, that leave only with your yes.
- Kept apart, never added to collections: the idle quotes and the customers who stopped buying.

How long it takes

- The same day: you upload the open items export (SAP FBL5N or Fatture in Cloud), or connect the ERP read-only. The report is ready in a few minutes, to the cent, in PDF too.
- In one week: the numbers checked with you (“Yes, they match”), the first reminders sent with your yes. On the seventh day Russet writes to you how much money is still standing still.
- In 90 days: the guarantee’s count, invoice by invoice.

The proof, row by row

Every euro has its row: the number at the top is the sum of the rows of your file. Example with an invented company:

File row	Document	Customer	Overdue by	Amount
1,204	1800073112	Acciaierie Esempio Nord	74 days	€48,200
3,877	1800075540	Carpenterie Modello	62 days	€31,750
512	1800071986	Fonderie Campione	95 days	€27,400

Only what was really paid counts: the invoice closed in your system, or the payment in the bank statement. Estimates are kept apart.

You decide

- Russet reads and writes nothing into your systems without your yes. Every access is recorded.
- You read every reminder first; it leaves in your company’s name.
- What Russet costs and what it got collected, on the same page.

The price
